Registration Information Packet 2022-2023

We appreciate your interest in our community at the University of Delaware Early Learning Center (ELC). Prior to enrolling in our center, families must complete a registration packet to be placed on our waitlist. Our goal is to enroll your child as soon as a spot becomes available. You may register your child by returning a completed registration form per each child and the signed copy of the Parents Right to Know Notice. Completed documents may be submitted via mail, email, fax or in person during business hours. We are open Monday-Friday 7AM-6PM.

Submitting a registration packet is not an enrollment application and does not guarantee your child's enrollment on the date desired. When a spot becomes available, you will be contacted by one of our Co-Directors for an interview to determine the best placement for your child. A $100.00 non-refundable deposit and a completed enrollment packet is required to enroll once you are contacted with a tentative offer. The deposit will be deducted from your first month's tuition.

Families on our waitlist will be contacted as spaces become available. Due to a multitude of variables involved in the enrollment process, we are unable to predict a definite enrollment date until you are contacted with an offer for enrollment. You may contact our center at any time regarding the status of your child's enrollment. Please note that it is possible for another child to receive a space before your child even if you registered before them because they fit one or more of the considerations outlined below.

Consideration for enrollment offers include but are not limited to:

- Currently enrolled child transitioning to another classroom (e.g. infant moving to toddler)
- Age of child
- Siblings of currently enrolled children
- University of Delaware employees and students
- Participation in New Directions Early Head Start or Early Childhood Assistance Program
- Children living in foster care
- Children with a diagnosed disability
- Purchase of Care authorization
- Community members

Director's Welcome

Welcome to the Early Learning Center at the University of Delaware. We are delighted you have chosen to partner with us to support the growth, development and learning of your child. The Early Learning Center is a “learning space” and is home to a diverse community -children and families, ELC staff practitioners, faculty, UD students, and community partners joining in an effort to impact each other and promote promising practices where all members’ blossom, and each learner’s abilities and gifts are able to flourish.

The values and beliefs of the Early Learning Center are evident in the way children and adults engage with each other daily.

We believe all individuals need to learn in a culture that promotes:

Respect for self: We see children as competent members of society from birth. We value their creativity and nurture their development and learning. We support the need for autonomy and help children and adults discover ways to continually grow and evolve.

Respect for others: We see children as members of our learning team. Teamwork is our support system and allows all members of the ELC to effectively work on individual and long-term goals. Adults honor the thinking of all participants of the learning community and communicate in ways to support the optimal outcome for everyone involved.

Respect for the environment: We see the environment as an extension of our learning. How we care for and develop our spaces for learning will direct the way we behave in the space. Just as humans evolve, we hope our learning environments are also continually evolving and reflect the ongoing learning that takes place at the Early Learning Center.

The Educational Leadership Team includes our Co- Directors, Kelly Freel our Infant-Toddler expert and Jessica Peace our Preschool/PreK and School-Age expert.

Our Infant-Toddler program is a state of the art child development program where educators engage with families and children to promote healthy, supportive learning opportunities for our youngest members and challenge their curiosity and language development as they learn to understand self and the world around them.

As children transition from the Infant-Toddler world, they are met with great expectation in our quality preschool and PreK program. Our educator’s welcome children and families into group learning experiences where children will begin to discover more about friendship, exploring increasing complex ideas and learning more about how our language and communication skill will set the foundation for later reading and lifelong learning.

We are confident you have chosen the best early learning environment for your child/children. We strive to provide a learning space for all individuals across the age-span and look forward to partnering with you as we support the learning and development of your child.

Sincerely,

Kelly Freel, B.S. Co-Director Infant-Toddlers

Jessica Peace, M.S. Co-Director Preschool/School-Age

Vision, Mission & Community

The University of Delaware Early Learning Center is a collaborative learning environment where the ELC, university and community work together to provide early learning experiences to support each child, each family, professional educators and future educators. Each classroom varies to reflect the ages of the children, their unique interests and early learning practices supported through research and practice.

At the ELC:

- Children are valued for their ability to do meaningful work, their sense of wonder and curiosity, their perspectives, and their ability to play.
- Families are valued for their bonds and traditions, their ability to play, their commitment to work, home, and community, and their dreams for their children.
- Staff are valued for their vision, their delight in children, their skill and knowledge, their commitment to families.
- Community is valued for their support of children and families, their contribution to the wellbeing of all members and their acts of collaboration to support the future of all individuals

Vision of the Early Learning Center

The UD Early Learning Center is a community of learners where equitable and inquisitive learning experiences instill confidence, resiliency, compassion, and creativity.

Mission of the Early Learning Center

As leaders of exceptional practices in early childhood education, we celebrate and honor each child and their family to promote optimal development for all. We design engaging environments with children where learning is fostered through play and inquiry, conversations, and discovery. Engagement and collaboration with the academic and research programs of the University of Delaware and the broader community promotes innovative and reflective practices.

Programs at the Early Learning Center

For children to grow cognitively, physically, and socially, they need stable relationships with adults who know them and their families well. The ELC provides full day programming. There are no part day options.

- In our Infant/Toddler program, children stay with the same caregivers from infancy until they are ready to move to the preschool program.
- Three to five year olds (preschool) are supported through the foundations of the Creative Curriculum, age appropriate Language and Literacy Strategies and on evidence based framework to support the social/emotional growth and development of children.
- Our School Age program serves children from kindergarten to third grade in multiage classroom settings by offering age appropriate activities that support their social emotional growth.
- A School Age Summer Camp provides opportunities for children to explore their individual interests.

Professional Development

Providing continual high quality programming for all children requires that staff stay abreast with current best practices and research. Throughout the year, the ELC is closed for whole staff professional days. Past professional development trainings have included trauma informed practices, behavior management and social emotional developments. In addition, our staff meets throughout the week to reflect together on the implementation of new practices in their classrooms. Because of this emphasis, the ELC staff routinely exceeds the required 18 hours for professional development required by the state Offices of Childcare Licensing and more importantly, your child's learning opportunities are enhanced.

Early Intervention

The Early Learning Center partners with Child Development Watch and with local school districts to support students who may need additional support with developmental milestones. The Early Learning Center believes all children should be supported in the least restrictive environment with their peers when possible.

Participation in Research

In line with the mission and vision of the Early Learning Center, we ask that all families enrolled in the ELC participate in the research activities that will allow us all to learn more about children's development and to better support families. If at any time a family decides to no longer participate in a research project you may inform your child's teacher. Enrollment at the Early Learning Center is not based on participation in research projects.

Teacher Candidates

The Early Learning Center is a host site for student placements and observations. The ELC staff mentor and support undergraduate and graduate students placed at the ELC.

Child care services are available for children under the age of 13. The Division of Social Services determines eligibility based on a family's income and need for service.
